Experience a hilarious college story set in dorm rooms, frat houses, lounge rooms, kitchens and bathrooms. Make huge messes and help your dorm mates live an exciting life. Create jokes with your fellow dorm mates and destroy common household objects. FEATURES: - Fun dorm-style gameplay – it’s a bit like a mix between The Sims and World of Goo - Decorate your dorm room and furnish your dorm mates - Decorate the hallway and create a party atmosphere - Create many different types of events, including cocktail party, pool party, mini-concert, and many more! - Fill your dorm mates’ minds with nonsense - Live the college life in the dorms of your dreams! - Watch your dorm mates get randomly tied up and find themselves in a position they weren't expecting! - Help your friends find a way out from each situation they find themselves in, because you know them too well! - Follow the funny plot and help your friends through their crazy adventures! Dorm Daze is a laugh-out-loud college experience for everyone! Welcome to Dojo, a kick-ass dungeon crawler powered by the RED engine! -- Download it now! - Rant “Dojo is probably the best experience on the platform for a while, and there’s a reason for that. It is a dungeon crawler that ditches the ball and chain of tutorials and has a full story-driven campaign that is certainly worth your time as a fan of Red. ” GamesRadar “Combat feels a little broken but Dojo is so very rewarding if you can stick with it. Some control issues aside, it’s a charming, witty, and just plain fun dungeon crawler.” JaylsGames “Dojo is a fun game and exactly what a full-fledged, JRPG dungeon crawler should be, and it’s a great experience for those who enjoy that genre or just dungeon-crawlers in general.” TimothyJ -- Download it now!

After spending your childhood lying on your unmade bed on too many waking mornings, you're finally off to college. Get ready for fun, awesome adventures in this game that reminds you of your time in high school. Playful, comical, sometimes witty and definitely very funny, the game offers a story full of adventure, action and random surprises. However, it's the touching atmosphere that will make you want to keep on playing. Really simple, fun and sometimes adorable interaction with the different characters. Just click and play! Feel free to comment, like, share and follow. About the game The game all started when Joey was looking for inspiration to find a college to study at, and fell on the website of a school from his home town, and suddenly it all changed. Joey applied to this school and started his last year of high school! The gameplay has been designed to be very simple, and there will only be a limited number of actions, animations and objects to use. I like this idea, because when I started making this game I had a lot of ideas, but when I started coding I realised that people will just play the game and they will be able to guess it on a very simple level. Gameplay You will start the game with a white tshirt, and it will change to the character's personality as he does various actions in the game. Starting with Joey who will be the first character you will encounter. After a while, you will learn how to use the different methods of interaction in the game. Before starting the game you will be given a few words of advice. "Enter the precious bedrooms, and together, with your friends, begin your interesting adventure in The Dorm's!" Joey Joey is a simple, easygoing guy. He is a kind of a goof, but he's also a little clumsy. He is always up for an adventure and he enjoys laughter at times. About Joey The only thing that Joey is smart about is his video game skills. He has always spent most of his time playing games, and he hopes to get enough money to buy a virtual reality headset, so he can play games in VR. As he is new to college, he also has to study. He wants to be the best student and he doesn't want to fail! Joey d41b202975

Join them on a tour of the far side of the moon in a whole new way, with a 3D Point and Click adventure! Deep in the heart of the Adventure Zone lies the amazing World of Loco! A world so different from our own that it must be true! Featuring amazing characters, tongue-in-cheek humor, puzzles, and things even the most seasoned point-and-click game player has never seen before... It's a whole lot of fun to pretend you are a bird, and soar around the screen trying to collect all the heart-shaped coins. But be careful not to come a cropper and land on the wrong space. The gravity is very different and you'll want to have a good look around to work out where the gaps are in the screen. If you want a bird's-eye view while you challenge your brain then why not collect all the coins to pass the level?

----- Try not to touch the coin blocks as they don't stack. If you tap them they will all disappear and you'll have to start again. Also, watch out for the scary word monsters. They'll steal your coins and it'll be all published:08 Jun 2017 views:119381 It's time for the latest challenge in the CrazyGames saga - Crazy Games 5. Your mission, should you choose to accept it, is to free the honest citizens from the clutches of the evil bandit Clancy. Help the citizens of Sugarbowl to regain their liberty and try to defeat the evil King Bandit. The gameplay is quite simple and reminds us of the classic point-and-click games. - Three action-packed levels with many obstacles - beyond a simple puzzle - Help the townsfolk to regain their dignity, by destroying the fortress under the command of the evil Clancy. - Simple and intuitive point-and-click mechanics without distracting display of "Gestures" - More than a dozen possible dialog choices -

Death in a Brown Backpack [The haunting voice of G.D. Bakhsh singeing over the heartbreak and longing of the yesternight. I remember the beautiful scene in the history of the world when the One Eye opened the Buds, and I heard the water fall and squeak on the glass and on the wet brick. I remember the dust in the seams, and the sound in the pot as the guard shook it and the sounds from the building as the girls took shelter within themselves and from themselves. G.D. Bakhsh's voice was full of pain, yet joy, full of endurance, full of life. He speaks and the students listen. He pauses and the students wait. He enumerates and they remember, for there was a fire in the centuries past and he speaks of the fire. Once there was a time when everyone lived on campus. No lock doors. No campus guards. No security. No egotists with their mute, two sided diamond. Mael was a small man who would talk on the backs of meat before they were slaughtered, before they were cut into steaks and chops. He would talk of colors. He would change the color of coal. He would call a girl later to learn of her wishes and dreams. He could take his meat and make it hop. He might even bring it to a girl, if she wanted. He would wake and make love to her, then eat later. He was always hungry. You ate the magic if Mael saw it, or when it was almost too late. You had to try to eat what he gave you. If you wanted more than the denials you stood and waited while Mael shook a bag filled with the colorful content. If you ran you jumped into bed very slowly thinking of where you might find your things. You could roll to the left and throw you could get to the right, but you would be too late. When you woke up there would be a final cause for despair. Mael was hungry but he was not as hungry when the day was over. So they kept the school only for the girls. In the afternoons when things were calm Mael would talk to the boys. The boys had little one eye marbles, but there
